Fine Promises Thorough Study Of Parkway Plan

Pocono Manor — The proposed 80-mile scenic parkway along the Poconos' ridges was discussed yesterday at the Inn here by Gov. John S. Fine and a committee of 24 men from Monroe and Lackawanna Counties.

The parkway—first named the "Rim Parkway," later changed to the "Pocono Mountains Memorial Parkway"—was proposed before World War II and was authorized by the Legislature in 1941.

Committee Chairman LeRoy Dengler, Mount Pocono, outlined the history of the parkway after Gov. Fine arrived at 4:30 p.m.

He cited the cost (a 1946 estimate) as $11 million, pointed out that the parkway would pass through an area containing 420 resorts, with 15,000 beds, 300 lakes, four rivers, 16 golf courses, 25 waterfalls and 100,000 acres of State forest lands.

Dengler said the Parkway would run from Milford in a northwest circle along the mountain ridges, then roughly south and east to wind up at Delaware Water Gap.

Before the Governor arrived, Dengler told the committee the purpose of having the Governor present was to ask him to "ask the Highway Department to proceed as according to the Act of 1941 and to appoint a commission to study the parkway and take action on it."

The Governor did neither, but he had some encouraging things to say before he left to keep a 6:15 p.m. Harrisburg appointment.

When Dengler proposed to read a list of organizations endorsing the parkway the Governor interrupted with: "Don't bother with that. It wouldn't mean a thing. If (the parkway) is sound and economical, I'd be for it. If not, I would be against it no matter how many are for it."

When the discussion turned to finances, a committee member pointed out that the toll parkway would be a self-liquidating proposition.

Dengler said Guarantee Trust Co. of New York had unofficially estimated the parkway would gross a million dollars a year.

Frank Michaels, president of Stroudsburg Security Trust Co., said bonding company representatives had reacted favorably when approached about financing the parkway construction.

Gov. Fine asked the committee why, then, the parkway had not been started—what was holding it up?

Several of the committee said they didn't know. One man suggested that bonding and finance groups were unwilling to make any commitments to an unofficial group, and that's why it was hoped the Governor would appoint a commission.

Big Three Powers Sign Peace Contract With West Germany

115 Murders Among Red POWs Noted

Koje Island, Korea (AP) — The Reds murdered 115 of their own number in gaining control inside Kojie prison compounds beginning with savage struggles last September, it was disclosed Monday.

At least that many were beaten to death, hanged or died from slow torture—some of them "executed" after sentence by kangaroo courts. One man was buried alive.

Informed sources said the worst battle was from Sept. 16 to Sept. 20, an episode in which 100 prisoners were wounded, 15 fatally. A dozen Allied guards were hurt, including three American infantrymen, as they tried to stop the fighting.

Attesting to the strong domination of the barbed wire stockades by the Reds, these sources said officials were able to screen only half of the 80,000 inmates now on Kojie to determine which ones want to return to Red rule.

The Red compound leaders roughly rejected screening for all prisoners in some stockades, although many anti-Communists were believed to be among them. Allied truce negotiators have reported that 70,000 die-hard Reds want to return to Red rule and that nearly 100,000 other military and civilian internees have said they would rather die.

The Communists still firmly control events inside the compounds. Allied personnel has been ordered to keep out. The Reds, organized into a disciplined army, are equipped with crude but deadly weapons.

Talks Resume At Panmunjom

Munsan (AP) — The tightly-snarled Korean armistice talks resumed in Panmunjom today after a three-day recess. The Allies were highly skeptical as to Communist intentions.

The meeting lasted 34 minutes. Negotiators agreed to meet again tomorrow, at Communist request.

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., new senior Allied delegate, asked for the recess as a cooling-off period after two weeks of daily propaganda blasts in which the Reds charged mistreatment of Communist prisoners.

Harrison said Monday he hoped the Communists had used the recess to "study once again" the United Nations Command stand against forcible repatriation of prisoners—the key issue blocking a truce.

The Allies said that of some 160,000 military and civilian internees in U. N. camps, nearly 100,000 had said they would rather die than return to North Korea or Red China. The U. N. Command offers to return the 70,000 other Red prisoners for nearly 12,000 held by the Reds.

Shovel Uncovers Dinosaur Bones

Harrisman, N. Y. (AP)—Bones of a dinosaur have been unearthed by a power shovel digging a drainage ditch. The bones were about four feet underground.

Operators of the shovel, John Leinweber and Christopher Schmick, both of Warwick, N. Y., said yesterday they came across the bones last Thursday.

Former WAC Officer Protests Discharge For Having Baby

Washington, (AP)—A former major in the Women's Army Corps carried to the Senate Armed Services Committee yesterday her protest against being discharged from the reserves because she had a baby.

Mrs. L. B. Thompson of East Orange, N. J., trim, black-haired and the mother of a 7-month-old son, said a woman should not be denied an opportunity to serve "solely because she performed the function for which our Creator intended her."

The 33-year-old former WAC, who had written letters of protest in vain to the Army, won a sympathetic response from Sen. Long (D-La.), who presided at a committee hearing on reserve forces legislation.

He told her he felt that women who have children should be permitted to drop out of the reserves but that this should not be compulsory.

Long also said he disagreed with regulations requiring the dis-

Sen. Connally Presses Fight For Aid Bill

Washington (AP) — Sen. Connally (D-Tex.) told the Senate yesterday to vote $6,900,000 for foreign aid if it didn't want "the world to go to hell."

The fiery Texan, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said sarcastically "The way to get real economy is to defeat this bill entirely, give them nothing, vote not one dime for the mutual security program."

"Then," he shouted, "you can go home and stretch yourselves before your constituents and say I saved seven billion dollars—and let the world go to hell."

Connally's speech opened what promises to be a long and bitter debate on mutual security.

Presbyterians May Restore Time Lapse

New York, (AP)—Presbyterians yesterday launched steps to restore a church law requiring a waiting period for remarriages—and said they hadn't intended to void the rule in the first place.

"But for the next year at least, it's technically out," said Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia, stated clerk of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

The mixup came at the church's 164th annual General Assembly, its supreme governing body.

"We didn't intend for it to happen, but it happened," Blake said. Only last Friday the Assembly, without discussion, voted final approval of a new section in the "Directory of Worship" replacing one which contained a one-year waiting period law.

The new section, which a majority of local Presbyteries had approved before it came before the Assembly, specifies no time lapse as a requirement before a divorced person can remarry in the church.

Yesterday, when Rev. Albert G. Butzer of Buffalo, N. Y., head of a Commission on Marriage and Divorce, explained that the one-year provision was officially nullified, a volley of protests came from the floor.

Butzer said the confusing situation resulted from the fact that in the past year two proposals on the subject had gone before local Presbyteries, and they had approved the section with phraseology deleting the rule, but rejected another one keeping it intact.

Finally, after a series of other motions was withdrawn, one was passed calling for a committee to formulate a new section restoring the one-year rule, so the Assembly might submit it to local Presbyteries.

Dr. Nina Price's Long Tenure Of Service Wins Recognition

The East Stroudsburg Exchange Club last night presented its fourth annual "Golden Deeds Award" to Dr. Nina Mae Price.

Presentation of the award was made by Horace G. Walters, chairman of the Golden Deeds Award Committee, at a dinner in Dr. Price's honor at Werry's Sunnyside beginning at 7 p. m.

In presenting the citation of honor, Walters recalled the many years during which Dr. Price had devoted her time to the community in which she lived.

As a medical doctor her work has brought her into constant contact with homes and families in every region of Monroe County, he pointed out.

Walters, toastmaster Rev. Harold C. Eaton (a previous winner of the award) and others who spoke during the program cited incidents during Dr. Price's forty years of service to the community which had led to her selection for the annual award—the highest offered by the National Exchange Clubs.

In addition to serving the public, Dr. Price has also found time to raise a family of seven children, all of whom are now married and have families of their own.

Dr. Price, in accepting the award, expressed humility and gratitude to the members of community organizations and businessmen who, she said, had never failed to assist her in worthy causes when they were found.

Miss Helen Kulp, executive secretary of the Child Health Committee, in a series of reminiscences, described her past associations with Dr. Price in numerous community projects and individual welfare cases.

In a second series of recollections, Mrs. Ida Kunkle, executive director of the Monroe County Chapter, American Red Cross, described a variety of work in which Dr. Price and the Red Cross had been associated.

Dr. Dorothy Case Blechschmidt, sister of the guest of honor, gave a brief outline of their early childhood together. Dr. Blechschmidt is a surgeon and a member of the board at Doctors Hospital, Philadelphia.

Following the personal commendations, the 20 members of the family who were in attendance at the dinner, were introduced.

Mr. C. B. Altomose, executive director of the Department of Public Assistance, gave the final testimonial.

In a discussion of Dr. Price and the work which she has carried on in this community, Mr. Altomose suggested that a community or (Continued on page three)

Four Nations Still Must Ratify Pact

Bonn, Germany (AP) — The United States, Britain and France signed with Western Germany yesterday a historic peace contract welcoming 48 million former enemies as new allies in a gamble to avoid World War III. But a perilous road lies ahead before the contract can take effect.

While the Russian bear growled, the three Western foreign ministers met with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in the Parliament Building here.

They signed documents which—when and if ratified—will end the Allied occupation, bring West Germans into the European community as an all but sovereign nation, and permit the Germans to contribute about 400,000 troops to Europe's Western defense army.

"Our work will succeed—it must succeed if we are to avoid another catastrophe," said French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, speaking on behalf of himself, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

The peace contract, signed over the repeated and vociferous protests of Moscow, becomes effective upon ratification by the four Parliaments. When—and if—this comes about, the split of Germany will be finalized unless Russia and the West at some later date can agree on how the West Germans and the 18 million of the East zone can be reunited. Meanwhile, Allied troops remain in Western Germany as part of the Western European defense setup.

Along with the related European Defense Community (EDC) Treaty to be signed today in Paris by six nations, the peace contract enlists the West Germans as rearmist allies of Western Europe in what the statesmen called "the fight for peace and freedom."

But a high American official acknowledged that there is "much trouble" ahead before the final ratification. Both the peace contract and the European army treaty face long hard battles, particularly in the Parliaments of West Germany and France.

The U. S. official, who cannot be identified, indicated an expectation that the United States would be the first nation to ratify the peace contract. The French Parliament is expected to take up the contract and the European army treaty later in the Summer.

Truman Threatens Investigation Of Power Companies

Washington (AP)—President Truman yesterday threatened a Justice Department investigation of the private power companies whom he accused of "following the Soviet and the Fascist lines... deliberately and in cold blood setting out to poison the minds of the people."

Truman said the power companies in scientific surveys found out that the people think public power operations are all right, so they set out to convince the public that "public power, and all the things the people think are good for them, are all part of some big plot to socialize the country."

He said in a tartly worded speech to the Electric Consumers Conference that this campaign, which he termed propaganda, is being paid for by consumers in two ways—through the rates they pay for electric power and through taxes because the power firms charge the costs of their advertising to operational expenses for tax purposes.

Jet Explodes; Three Men Die

Franklin, Va. (AP) — A B-45 Toronado jet bomber exploded and crashed yesterday near this little town in Southeastern Virginia. The burned bodies of its three-man crew were recovered from the plane's nose section.

Langley Air Force Base, from which the plane had taken off on a routine flight, reported that investigators had found no evidence that the bomber collided with another plane, as one witness had said shortly after the crash.

The three airmen were listed as Lt. Herbert W. Remington, pilot; Lt. Jerry O. Causey, co-pilot; and Lt. Anthony S. Butler, aerial observer.

Missouri Bloc Uninstructed

By The Associated Press

Democrats in President Truman's home state of Missouri will send an uninstructed delegation with 34 votes to the Democratic National Convention.

Seven of the state's 42 delegates said they liked Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois. He says he only wants to be reelected governor.

One backed Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee as a first ballot choice, another was for W. Averell Harriman, New York's favorite son candidate, and Vice President Barkley was favored by one.

The rest was uninstructed. It was obvious they were waiting for some guidance from President Truman.

The early show of strength by Stevenson among the Missouri delegates had prompted some speculation Truman might have quietly passed the word to Democratic leaders there that he would like to see Stevenson become the Democratic presidential hope.

Truman's own vote at the Democratic convention will be cast by Thomas J. Gavin, a little Irishman from Jackson County, Mo.

Gavin was one of 16 at-large alternate delegates chosen at the Missouri Democratic State Convention yesterday.

Mine Car Drops 100 Feet; Two Men Are Killed

Mahanoy City, (AP)—Two miners were killed and four others injured late yesterday when a rope broke while pulling their small car from one mine level to another at the Mahanoy City Colliery of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co.

A company spokesman said the car plunged about 100 feet down the 60-degree slope and crashed into a stone facing at the bottom of the pit.

Killed were Charles Concernis, 54, of Shenandoah, and Joseph Puck, 40, of Mahanoy City.

Injured were: Mike Gnall, 44, New Boston, Pa.; his brother, Joseph of Mahanoy City; Phillip Keim, 47, Frank Millard, both of Mahanoy City.

Court Rules Movies Entitled To Free Speech Guarantees

Washington, (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled yesterday that (A) it's all right to broadcast music and commercials to streetcar and bus riders, and (B) it's unconstitutional for a state to ban a movie on the grounds that it is sacrilegious.

But the court said nothing on the biggest question before it: Did President Truman exceed his powers when he seized the steel industry? It adjourned until next Monday without a hint as to when it would be ready with the steel decision.

Movie censorship came to the court in the case of the Italian movie, "The Miracle," produced by Roberto Rossellini, husband of actress Ingrid Bergman.

It was banned in New York after strong protests were made by some Roman Catholics, including Francis Cardinal Spellman.

The court was unanimous in its opinion that the state was wrong in banning "The Miracle."

But the justices went a step further than they ever have before. They said that the constitutional guarantees of free speech and free press cover the movies.

This obviously threw something of a cloud over the censorship agencies which operate in many states. But the new concept which the court set forth will require clarification in many more cases before it is known just how much freedom from censorship the films are entitled to.

The streetcar rider case involved the Capital Transit Co. of Washington, D. C. The company has signed up with a local radio station, WWDC-FM, for a program which includes music, commercials, news and weather reports.

This is broadcast through loudspeakers in streetcars and buses. The court voted 7 to 1 that no constitutional rights are violated. But Justice Douglas, in a sharp dissent, said he thinks the broadcasts to a captive audience are a violation of a man's privacy.

Justice Burton wrote the majority opinion, and said the court expressed "no opinion as to the desirability of radio programs in public vehicles."

Is America Losing Own Freedom? Sockman Asks

A prominent American clergyman, speaking before the graduating class of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College yesterday, posed the question: "Is America squandering millions to make a free Korea and Europe and losing her own freedom right here at home?"

Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, pastor of Christ Church in New York City, called this "the bloodiest century the world has ever known" and stated "we (the civilized world) have a date with divine destiny."

In addressing the 116 senior class members and their parents, Dr. Sockman acknowledged the conflict which exists, at present, between the Western world and Russia.

Of greater concern, however, he said, was the lack of moral control within our own country.

This laxity in morals, Dr. Sockman declared, has made possible the "gambling syndicates, high school youth drug addiction, police scandals and graft and corruption in every stratum of society."

To combat this lack of integrity, the clergyman advocated a renewal of "self-control" in matters of public morals.

The area of human conduct, Dr. Sockman pointed out, has been divided into three major parts. These, he said, are the "conscience, which should not be controlled by man, but left between man and God; an opposite part including public conduct which should be controlled by law and a third, or center, portion."

This latter part, Dr. Sockman interpreted as the "zone of obedience to the unenforceable—an area in which the individual must refrain from doing those things which are morally wrong" on his own violation.

Through "self-control," the pastor said, the individual helps prevent the "curtailment of liberties."

In the "home, school and church," the speaker continued, "we can develop the discipline to preserve our freedom. The executive or soldiers."

Dr. Sockman, who toured Russia in 1946 as a representative of the International Red Cross and has since visited dictatorships in Spain, Yugoslavia and Argentina, minimized the possibility of an "immediate war with Russia."

He forecast, instead, an extended period of "tension and cold war" between that country and the U.S.

Rev. P. N. Wohlsen, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, in Stroudsburg delivered the opening invocation and the closing benediction for the commencement ceremonies.

Following Dr. Sockman's address, college president Dr. Joseph F. Noonan conferred degrees of Bachelor of Science in Education on 64 graduating seniors and degrees of Bachelor of Science in Health Education on 52 class members.

Recipient of "highest honor" in the 1952 graduating class was Ursula Elchorn Lindberg, of Golf Hill, Honesdale, Pa.

"High honor" was awarded to Joan Emily Roos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Roos Jr., of Cresco.

"Honor students" were: Gladys Hamer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hamer, 157

School Schedules Closing Exercises

Portland—Pupils of the eighth grade here are rehearsing for their commencement exercises to be held at 8 p. m. Wednesday, June 4, in the school gymnasium. Awards will be given at the ceremonies and the public is invited to attend.

Brown St., E. Stroudsburg and the following non-county residents:

Joan L. Blank, Ettore Bugliocci, Rosemarie Elchorn, Pauline A. Goddess, Dorothy Jane Folk, Hilda Hinterleitner, Edward Parsons Jr., Frank Nejak, Lorraine Lavorek, Eugene Waldbauer, Joan Givens, Joan Bender, Marie Ann Kennedy and (in absentia) Ruth Ann Steele.

The college glee club sang three numbers during the program—"A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," "None But the Lonely Heart" and "Finlandia."

Dr. C. J. Naegle, retiring dean of instruction at the college, presented the seniors to President Noonan for conferment of the degrees.

Poultrymen May Form Association

Regional poultrymen have been invited to an important meeting in the basement meeting room of Stroudsburg Municipal Building at 8 p. m. Wednesday to determine whether they are interested in formation of a County Poultry Association.

A. E. Ifft, county agent, and F. H. Leuschner, poultry specialist at State College, will direct a discussion on growing a pullet crop.

Reason for the discussion of advantages and disadvantages of a county association, officials said, is that the poultry industry as a whole is a very loose project. Some poultrymen are enthusiastic about attempting to organize because their individual efforts have meant very little.

Elmer Veety, Wendell Wicks, Omar Michaels and Edwin Fuhrer will file a report on establishments of a poultry diagnostic laboratory in Northeastern Pennsylvania. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

VFW Fixes Membership Goal At 100%

Fred Hoffman, new commander of Thomas P. Lambert Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has set a goal for his post of 100 per cent membership, a goal which he says "every veteran of this area should make his own."

Hoffman emphasized the goal should be reached this July when the delegates from VFW posts all over the state meet at Pittsburgh. Hoffman said he wants to be able to answer the roll-call at the department encampment with 100 per cent membership.

"This 100 per cent membership takes on an added significance at this time, since a past post commander and present department junior vice commander, Elmer D. Christine, is slated to be elected to the post of department senior vice commander," Hoffman said.

The commander said the membership goal can be achieved "if all veterans who are not members of the VFW get behind the post and join when membership is really needed." Hoffman also appealed to veterans to have let their membership lapse to become reinstated by payment of current dues.

ganization might be formed by the existing service clubs who could "pool their efforts" to take care of a portion of the work now being done by Dr. Price and a few others.

This "community organization" Mr. Altomose emphasized, would serve to augment the present activities of charitable units functioning in the county area.

The citation issued to Dr. Price by the Exchange Club on behalf of its national organization was addressed to "Dr. Nina Mae Price, M.D.—Distinguished Citizen of Monroe County."

It read as follows: "... serving the community as practicing physician for over thirty years; untiring in devotion to a cause; who has given unceasingly of her life and energies that the sick and injured might be healed, and by her patient and altruistic service and sympathetic efforts to the distressed, has earned the grateful appreciation and high commendation of her fellow citizens."

Retiring Business Manager At College Is Honor Guest

Arthur L. Helmes, retiring business manager of State Teachers College, East Stroudsburg, was honored last night at Stroudsburg at a dinner attended by 75 persons.

The banquet, at Penn-Stroud Hotel, was opened by Dr. C. J. Naegle, dean of instruction, who reminisced over the 30-odd years he and Mr. Helmes had been at the college.

Mrs. Helmes gave a resume of her husband's career from the time she knew him as a boy until the present.

Harold A. Wiggins, superintendent of buildings at the college, presented a gift to the retiring manager as a symbol of the appreciation of the non-instructional staff at the college.

President Judge Fred W. Davis, speaker at the banquet, discussed the services rendered the college and community by Mr. Helmes. Pantomimes were given as entertainment by Andy Levensis, a student.

Mr. Helmes' work was commended by Dr. Joseph Noonan, college president.

The invocation was offered by Dr. T. J. Breitwieser, director of the training school at the college.

Fine Promises Parkway Study

Gov. Fine looked over maps of the proposed parkway, then wondered how the banking groups had "arrived at their figure" and why they were optimistic about the salability of the bonds.

Each section of the highway would have to be self-liquidating, he said.

There was some discussion about whether or not the parkway would be opened all year, and the expense of snow removal.

Gerald P. O'Neill, manager of the Penn-Stroud hotel, Stroudsburg, suggested the governor fly over the proposed route.

Said Gov. Fine: "But the question is whether this can be financed, and if so—how. It's not a question of raising taxes. I wouldn't consider this a headache. It would have to be made very clear to the outside (public) so that this doesn't get confused with tax matters."

"That is basically the problem, isn't it? ... the money?"

A committeeman suggested the appointment of a commission to serve without salary.

"I'm not going to say yes," answered Gov. Fine. "I'm going to wait until I can make a definitive statement that means something. I don't want to kid you."

He went on to say that appointing a commission would lead to the belief that the Governor was endorsing the parkway in part ... and this he would not do until he had a chance to study the matter further.

"I'll go into the matter with the Highway Department and get in touch with O'Neill or Dengler," he said.

"If this thing is one of those matters which has been ignored because it's a forgotten stepchild, and if it's good, then we'll do something about it. This thing is not going to be harmful—it will help your economy."

The proposed parkway would be strictly for scenic purposes ... designed to draw tourists to the area. The parkway would be fenced off, according to present plans. Only entrances (at six points) would be through toll booths. The parkway would run along the most scenic mountain ridges of the Pike and Monroe County areas.

List Totals 1,516 After 115 Enroll

The Board of Governors of the Monroe County Automobile Club were informed at the meeting last night at the headquarters that 115 new members had been enrolled during the past two months, bringing the total to 1,516, the highest in the history of the organization.

Announcement was also made that the change of name to Pocono Mountains Motor Club, voted at the recent annual meeting had been approved by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation and now goes to the executive committee of the American Automobile Assn. for formal approval.

The board reorganized for the coming year with the reelection of Gerald P. O'Neill, first vice president; George Shick, second vice president; A. F. Everitt, secretary, and George H. Costenbader, treasurer. R. LeRoy Dengler was re-elected president at the annual meeting previously.

Plans were also discussed for operation of the club office during the late Spring and Summer months. The office will be open every Saturday afternoon from noon to 5 p.m. It was also voted to employ extra help the next three months, starting the first week in June. This was made necessary by the extra service furnished members of the local club and traveling AAA members.

The club agreed to enter into a contract with Earl Hopper, owner of the Snyder's garage as an AAA service garage with 24-hour service.

Announcement was made that agreement had been reached between the local club and the Lackawanna County unit covering operations in Pike County. The local club will have the territory across from Porter's Lake to a point above Dingmans Ferry and extending to the Monroe County border. This was the result of a meeting of a special committee of the PMF and representatives of the two motor clubs.

The annual meeting of the PMF will be held at Pittsburgh June 12-14. Mr. O'Neill will be the official representative of the local club.

Report on emergency road service for the past month showed 53 calls—28 local and 25 foreign—costing $174.75.

Governors in attendance last night were: R. L. Dengler, A. F. Everitt, Van D. Yetter Jr., George H. Costenbader, H. W. Blair, Clair Larn, George Woolbaugh, Walter Foss, G. P. O'Neill and the secretary-manager, Mrs. Cynthia Watt.

Fine Pledges Fight Against Alcoholism

Pocahontas—Gov. John S. Fine yesterday called alcoholism a "dread destroyer of humans" and pledged all possible state aid in fighting the disease.

"I want to do everything I possibly can to help combat this scourge of humanity," Fine declared in a speech before the third international convention of doctors in Alcoholics Anonymous at the Inn here.

Fine at the same time commented that the Commonwealth has only made a start toward "accepting" our responsibility at the state level to prescribe proper remedies for this chronic illness.

The Governor took occasion to criticize the 1951 Legislature for turning down a request by the State Health Department for $150,000 to set up alcohol treatment clinics.

The appropriation was turned down, Fine said, despite the fact that Pennsylvania made a profit of 91 million dollars last year on its liquor monopoly.

The Governor forecast that another attempt would be made in the 1953 Legislature to obtain funds to combat alcoholism and added:

"We need to establish more clinics in this state. We also need information centers for the guidance and care of alcoholics."

More Emily Post

Psychiatrists ought to have their heads examined. They show signs of slipping.

Usually never at a loss for a fresh excuse to explain away the lapses of mankind, this time they've had to fall back on an old one.

They blame spring for the latest folly we've committed. Male undergrads on several college campuses have been guilty of underwear raids on sorority houses and women's dormitories.

The reason, say the psychiatrists, is the season.

It's a convenient, but lame, excuse.

Spring has come and gone by the thousands without making such vulgar saps of us homo sapiens.

The trend toward relaxation of our code of conduct is the real culprit—that, and excuses which are paraded under the flag of tolerance. Some psychiatrists are responsible for inventing those excuses.

Psychiatrists have been reading too much Freud and not enough Emily Post.

Right Off The Cob

Some members of the House of Representatives have been arguing about the merits of corn bread made in their respective states.

Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins of Ohio, for example, devoted nearly two columns of the Congressional Record the other day to a laudatory discussion of the Buckeye State's brand.

Said Mr. Jenkins in part: "Ohio is about the fourth or fifth state of the Union in the amount of corn produced, and the Ohio corn is especially adapted for the making of corn bread, and when it comes to corn cakes and 'lasses there ain't nuthin' as good as Ohio nice brown, corn cakes with good Ohio golden butter and Ohio 'lasses."

Much more of that, Mr. Jenkins, and Ohio will rate even higher than "fourth or fifth" in the production of "corn."

Was It a Dream?

Headline: Critical Years Ahead, NATO Official Feels.

And how do you think the rest of us feel, Mr. NATO Official? We don't count the last dozen years a silk-lined, air-conditioned free excursion on the gravy train. With stops, only, to load on more fun.

Economics, Plus and Minus

In a report in its current issue on the immediate economic outlook, the magazine Business Week lists on the "plus" side this factor:

"The Treasury has just begun to borrow the new money that it will need to finance the government deficits this year and next."

This is an inflationary factor regarded as favorable, for the moment, to general commodity sales.

On the "minus" side the magazine reports this factor: "Military spending will increase more slowly from now on."

That is regarded as deflationary, and unfavorable to the over-all volume of business.

But how do these things stack up on the basis of sound government financing?

Somehow, in this light, it all seems to add up to 'minus'—for the taxpayer.

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

Truman's Personnel

I listened to Harry Truman's speech to the Congress last night. It was real exciting. The President sounded like Eugene V. Debs at his best and I enjoyed it very much. He is a skilled performer when it comes to a slugging, free-swinging political speech of the ancient soapbox variety. It is good to listen to, except that one wonders whether it is good for the morale of the country for the President to rabble-rouse like a lesser Huey Long.

Meanwhile, his Administration seems to be falling apart, this time not because great minds fear persecutions by Joe McCarthy, but because it grows inefficiently under the President. Charles E. Wilson resigned from a position he never should have accepted because the President kept twisting the rules of the road until everybody about him was dizzy. Wilson never knew whether he or Eric Johnston or Mike Disalle or Dr. John R. Steelman was in charge of the job which Wilson thought he had undertaken.

Now that Wilson is out, nobody seems to want the job and it is reported that Nathan P. Feinsinger, who managed the Wage Stabilization (pardon the expression) Board, is also quitting after having forced the steel issue into the courts.

The management of the Office of Defense Mobilization, the counterpart of the positions held by Bernard M. Baruch and William S. Knudsen in other wars, now goes begging even though we are at war, a state of mind described by acting Attorney General Perlman, who so testified before the Supreme Court. When we get a new President in January, this may be rectified, but what are we to do until January? And after that, it depends on who is elected. Meanwhile, this country, in a war in which the losses keep mounting, is so sloppy in its production that Russia, which was behind the world in 1938, is beating us in aircraft and naval construction, or at least that is what our authorities indicate when they seek appropriations.

Wilson is not the only man who quit. By the looks of it, the second line on the organization chart left the government altogether or have switched to other government departments. Eric Johnston and Mike Disalle walked out earlier, Johnston to return to motion pictures and Disalle to Ohio politics. In the administrative confusion arising from the desires to give second and third line men top billing, the shifts do not always indicate total elimination from the Administration.

Just as the war in Korea is being operated on a tragically ridiculous strategy which has, from the first, seemed to be designed to aid the enemy, so the mobilization of production and even manpower is being handled with an uncertainty that leads to chaos.

Imagine throwing the steel industry out of kilter at a time when steel production is essential to the supply not only of our troops in Korea, but to that NATO army which so much is being spoken, these days! Yet, it was done and the Socialists at their A. D. A. dinner applauded Mr. Truman for doing it.

There are many who believe that all that needs to be accomplished is to get Mr. Truman out of office and that then all problems will be solved. It would seem that that would be an inadequate solution because what really is the fault it that we have lost Cabinet responsibility and have established all sorts of bureaus and boards and offices without any coordination of responsibility, except that every once in a while, the President loses his temper and "accepts" somebody's resignation.

The Departments of Commerce and Labor seem to have disappeared altogether in this melange of uncoordinated operations. I often wonder what Maurice Tobin, Secretary of Labor really does? Actually, all labor matters are being handled by John R. Steelman of the President's secretariat, who is now also handling defense mobilization, production, party politics and everything else. It is difficult for a top man to take a top job when he knows that between himself and the President stands the secretariat.

Herbert Hoover's commission advocated the fixed responsibility of Cabinet government, but his reforms, advanced by the President in public, did not get far in actual promotion.

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

An ambitious cloak and suiter made a fortune overnight. He promptly bought a marble-fronted mansion just off Fifth Avenue and called in an expensive decorator to do it up in style. For the panel above his library fireplace he selected a portrait by Reubens. Its forty-thousand-dollar tag didn't worry him a bit.

Two years later, however, he brought the portrait back to the gallery where he had purchased it. "I've just changed my name from Rabinowitz to Robinson," he explained, so I was wondering if you'd let me swap this Reubens for a Goya."

Goodman Ace says he's discovered how to really enjoy television. "We do it all with a six-foot screen," he explains gravely, and when his visitor invariably expresses astonishment, he adds, "Yes, it's a Japanese screen, and we place it directly in front of the television set."

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington May 26—Leon Keyserling is a fool or a liar.

In either case he should not be what he is—chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors. On February 9, 1952, Keyserling said, in reply to charges leveled by Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, that he is not now, and never has been, a Communist. He added:

"My wife has never joined any Communist or Communist front organization or any organization sympathetic to Communism. She, no less than I, is bitterly opposed to Communism in all its forms."

Mary Dublin Keyserling, wife of Leon Keyserling, is director of the International Trade Analysis Division of the Department of Commerce. This is a highly important statistical branch of the department.

Despite her husband's denial, and despite government regulations restricting the employment of notorious Communist fronters, Mary Dublin Keyserling has a long and consistent record of cooperation with, and membership in, some of the most vicious red propaganda organizations ever to exist in the nation.

I have more than 100 pounds of proof, painstakingly gathered from many sources and covering more than two decades. Some of it includes examples of Leon Keyserling's earlier economic and political philosophy, which it at broad variance with the free enterprise system he is sworn to uphold today. But the story is essentially that of Mary Dublin Keyserling, her activities as a Communist frontier, and her long association with known members of the Communist Party, U.S.A.

In order to understand the depth of Mary Dublin Keyserling's cooperation with Communist fronts it is necessary first to look at her personal associations and antecedents. She is the sister of Elizabeth Dublin Marshall, Elizabeth Dublin Marshall is married to George Marshall, a red hot Communist front joiner who disburses funds out of a pro-Communist treasury established by his late brother, Robert Marshall.

Robert Marshall was a millionaire who, on his death, left funds to set up the notorious Marshall Foundation. This well-financed trust has consistently financed the operations of Communist causes.

The names of George Marshall and Mary Dublin Keyserling have been found on Communist front letters, usually together in one capacity or another, for the past 20 years.

For instance, Mary Dublin Keyserling and George Marshall were listed as sponsors of a citizens rally to answer the attack on public education, held in Carnegie Hall, New York City, April 13, 1940. The rally was sponsored by the American Committee for Democracy and Intellectual Freedom. The committee was cited as a Communist front by the House Committee on Un-American Activities in the 78th Congress.

Mary Dublin Keyserling was still associated with this front four years after the citation.

Carol Weiss King, the Communist lawyer, now deceased, was also a sponsor of the Carnegie Hall Communist front rally, just to give you an idea of the kind of company Mrs. Keyserling was keeping in 1940.

Mary Dublin Keyserling, along with George Marshall and half the known Communists on Broadway, was sponsor of a dinner-forum on October 9, 1941, under the auspices of the American Committee to Save Refugees.

The American Committee to Save Refugees was cited as a Red Front during the 78th Congress. It was so bad, in fact, that Senator Herbert Lehman, then governor of New York and a hard man to separate from left-wing playmates, sent the following telegram to the sponsors:

"When I accepted your invitation to serve as a sponsor of the Dinner-Forum on Europe Today on October 9, I did so in the belief that the dinner was exclusively for the purpose of helping men and women who are the unfortunate victims of Nazi persecution. I did not notice the names of certain committees, under whose auspices the dinner is to be held. It has now been represented to me that these committees have been connected with Communist activities."

To save Leon Keyserling a trip to my office I will, in the next few days, cite more of the evidence linking his wife to Communist front organizations. There is plenty of it.

Mobilizer Wilson says we can keep our military potential for 100 years without straining. Others say that's just the trouble, all we have is potential.

It's kind of refreshing to see the tax collectors answering the questions for once. Washington has progressed from five per cents to 20 per cents.

An assistant attorney general getting $5,000 for selling a $30,000 airplane shows how sky-high conditions are.

She was indeed a rare one,

But, fool as then I was, I thought she loved me, too:
But now, alas! she's left me, faler, lero, lero!"

Yes, all this young lady wanted was a cup of coffee.

I tried to force a hamburger sandwich on her.

"No appetite" was her only rejoinder.

Not even a most delicious piece of lemon meringue pie appealed to her and, in spite of the fact that she put three teaspoons of sugar into her coffee, she made a face when she drank it as if it were a cup of bitter fluid.

self in a local drug store when she came in.

I thought she was sick. She could hardly drag her feet to the soda counter and there was an expression of utter desolation in her eyes. So I asked her to join me.

I remembered that four or five weeks ago she had told me that she was engaged and that the wedding was planned for June.

Her fiancé, by her description, was a gay Lothario, a combination of at least five movie heroes, a man with a great sense of humor and a brilliant future.

At present, however, he was a post office clerk in nearby Norwalk—yes, isn't that how Postmasters General often start?

So I asked her "How is your wedding coming along?"

That did it.

She burst out crying—right in to her already not too strong coffee—and replied:

"That's all washed up."

And then she told me.

Her former fiancé was a dud. He had no backbone. He bored her stiff. He was a miser. He had simply nothing.

Upon further inquiry, I found out as time went on, she had affected him about the same.

So the thing just petered out gradually.

They used to see each other every night. Then three times a week—twice, once, and not at all.

It wasn't so much this particular man. It was that she, an attractive girl getting along in years, was without a man.

Then, as I ate my lunch, she asked me how a girl could go about finding another man she could really love.

Our town was limited. It seemed that all the nice men were already married. Those darn girls around here seemed to grab them all before they got to her.

I told her to put a Help Wanted ad in the local paper. She laughed, a bit sourly, at my joke.

She had to go back to work, her question, how to find a man, unanswered. But I promised to let her know if a good idea occurred to me.

Can You help?

Letter from a college boy to his father—

Dear Dad:

Well, I guess you will be a little disappointed over my marks this term, but I am trying very hard and am two raids ahead of a lot of boys in my class. I flunked in Advanced Wall Scaling, but passed in elemental Transon Research and will not have to take the course in Door Battering all over again next year. I am studying very hard, especially nights. Two nights this week I studied so hard I sprained a leg on a fire escape and got hit over the head by a couple of co-eds for being slow climbing into their room. But do not worry. All I need is one more bra to graduate.

Love Donald.

The reply —

Dear Son:

Your mother and I are of course disappointed that you have not done better in the studies prescribed for classrooms. However, these are strange times and I suppose a bad example has been set for you in high places. The President of the United States has been trying to scare the pants off everybody. The Treasury Department has been snatching our shirts and scores of politicians have been giving justice the big slip. Looking at the picture you might excusably get the idea there was a future in such strange behavior.

I do not approve of your conduct at all, but must admit that in a world in which groupings are engrossed in perfecting instruments of manslaughter, ultimatum hurling, singing hymns of hate, leering at honesty, hoisting standards of decency, cheating on their own security programs and crashing through red lights, a little pantie and bra snatching can be accepted as a comparatively minor offense. If nothing more than a few undies were being brazenly seized by some of our more notable adults

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

One of the compensations for growing older is the way your sympathies widen. There was a day when I could have looked at the blackgowned graduates on the college campus with their parents and classmates on graduation day with no sympathy whatsoever.

Instead, there might have been admiration and a kind of envy that their schooldays were safely behind them.

And there was a later day, when I could feel a deep compassion for the graduates—looking so young and unprepared for the burdens and decisions that would so shortly descend upon them.

Yesterday, outside of noticing that every year the graduates look younger than ever, all my sympathy went out to the parents. Must have been a struggle for them to bring their children this far. Must have been a digging down for the last nickel in the penny bank to get that hat so obviously brand new and bought for the occasion for Dad, those shoes so shiny and just a little bit tight and high in the heel for Mother, to get Sister's braids done just so.

And there they stood waiting unnoticed in the swirl of last goodbyes all firmly determined that nothing in how they look or how they act or what they say shall shame that wonderful son or daughter.

Shame? Why bless their hearts, it won't take many years of living to make those same graduates realize humbly how much, much more they have to learn to ever be worthy of their parents. If we ever are.

Local Grange Is Host To Pomona

Tannersville—One of the most interesting meetings of the entire year for Grange 1415 was held on May 17 when Pomona sessions were held in the afternoon and night. There were about 55 persons present at the afternoon session, when Hon. John Shotwell was the guest speaker.

Members from various granges in Monroe and Pike County lead discussions on diverse subjects such as roadside beautification and practical suggestions on ways to make attractive furnishings for the home, tasty dishes and smart floral arrangements.

Star Grange, Northampton Co. was represented by their Master and Home Economic Chairmen who have been Grange members for 35 years. They both spoke about the state convention to be held in Allentown in October and the plans of this Grange and many others nearby to welcome all Grange members in the State.

At the close of the afternoon session an old fashioned supper was served, under the supervision of Mrs. Myles Dailey.

The night session took place at 7:30 in the Pocono Township School. The stage was decorated with lilies, dogwood and wild honeysuckle. It formed a background for the tableaux which featured women dressed in pastel colors. Mrs. Ruth Howell was the accompanist.

Seven members received the fifth degree, five from Pocono Grange 1415, and were initiated by a colorful degree team. The Chairman of Home Economics and a visitor from Oak Ridge, Tenn., were presented with bouquets of red roses.

Members from Mt. Prospect, Greeley, Matamoras, Cherry Valley and Hamilton Granges were present, in addition to representatives from the Star Grange and local members.

A combined picnic, consisting of all the members of granges located in Monroe, Pike and Carbon Counties will be held in Eureka Park in Weatherly in June, it was announced.

After the business meeting and initiation of members, the host grange served all with ice cream and cake.

Pocono Grange 1415 also held a skating party at the Stroud Roller Ring recently which while the crowd was no large was a success socially. It was old home week in a sense, with Vera Walters, Dot Heller, Frank Mooney, Louise Metzgar, Maud and Charles Van Selver, with many students from Pocono High School and several of the younger children from the locality adding to the fun. Mrs. Gerlinger, Mrs. Salie Henry, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Myles Dailey, Mrs. Hannah Shively and Mrs. Frank Mooney took part as spectators, and everyone had such a good time, it is planned to repeat the affair soon.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

This is the story of two women, both of whom offer their special talents to Wyckoff customers, so that all who shop here may enjoy those extra special niceties in which every feminine heart luxuriates.

The first of whom I'd like to chat, is Gret Barkin. The daughter of Jacques Ver Beck of Belgium, she inherited the ability to create beauty from the simplest of materials. She also inherited a set of tools more than a century old. Probably she would never have made use of either had her initial desire to be a "Junior Elsa Maxwell" been sufficiently rewarding. However it left her with time on her hands, and she decided to become a model. This career necessitated special clothes and unusual accessories. In itself, that was not too much of a problem. Gret had been taught as a child to execute decorative pieces, and so she turned to fashioning bracelets, earrings, pins and chains from copper. Theatrical friends saw and admired them, and suddenly a new business was born. Its present headquarters is on a farm in New Hope, Pa., where Mrs. Barkin is assisted by her husband and son.

The Barkin jewelry is sold in "better" stores across the country including Wyckoff's . . . of course! It also has a ready sale in England, where shields and crests are particularly favored. Prices range from $2 to $14 plus tax, and each piece is signed with the designer's name. The most interesting thing about it is that, once you have selected the piece that fits your particular personality, it is yours alone. Other pieces may appear similar. But not when you compare them. Each is handwrought and is completely distinctive.

The second woman of whom I'd like to talk is Nan Weikel of Palmerton, who is as charming and thoughtful as she is skillful. You remember her, I am sure, from her recent appearance in the store where she showed the actual making of the pottery which bears her signature. Her wedding plates, china dolls, night lights, and candle holders are delightful. So are her novelties. One lad whom I know is treasuring an adorable fat pig in a little blue coat . . . a pig with a hole in his head that holds lollipops now, but will later hold his toothbrush when it accompanies him to the hospital. A Nan Weikel whimsy, this useful toy is cute and endearing. How wonderful it must be to have a talent that makes the world a lovelier, happier place

New Pupils To Register Next Week

Roger A. Dunning, elementary supervisor in the Stroudsburg schools, announced yesterday that both the kindergarten and pre-school clinic and registration of children who will enter kindergarten or first grade this September will be held at the Ramsey School during the week of June 2 to 6, inclusive. The clinic will be conducted by Miss Eloise Bryan, psychologist of the Stroudsburg Schools.

To be eligible for kindergarten next fall a child must be five years old before Feb. 1, 1953. To be eligible for first grade next fall a child must be six years old before Feb. 1, 1953. Children who attend kindergarten this past school term need not register.

Parents are asked to take birth certificates and vaccination records. Hours of registration will be from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., June 2 to 6, inclusive.

Definite appointments must be made by calling Mr. Dunning at the Ramsey School—telephone 858. Appointments are made so that it is not necessary for parents and children to wait until taken care of.

Appointments should be made this week during school hours. Schools are closed on Friday, May 30.

Newfoundland Rotary Club Host To 18 Senior Boys

Newfoundland—Eighteen boys who are members of the senior class of the Greene-Dreher-Sterling High School were guests of Newfoundland Rotary Club here last night for the celebration of the second anniversary of the club.

Thomas Francis, Scranton, superintendent of Lackawanna County schools, past president of Pennsylvania State Education Association and past district governor of Rotary International, was speaker. Mr. Francis used as his theme the cardinal points of Rotary and how they serve all who use them in having the basic riches in life through service.

Joseph Jacobs, supervising principal of the Greene-Dreher-Sterling High School and first president of the Newfoundland club, introduced Mr. Francis.

Lorimer Brown, president-elect of the club, conducted the meeting. The Newfoundland club was chartered by Rotary International on March 27, 1950. It has a membership of 23, the same number with which it was chartered. During its first year, the organization has had an eventful period of regional service through projects it has sponsored.

The club will meet again Friday, June 6 to hear Imre Kovacs speak on "America Just Beginning."

How to Keep Refreshing Those Enduring Memories...

Although the memory of a loved one who has passed on is ever-enduring, many Record readers make a habit of reviving and refreshing those engraved-on-the-heart thoughts through Daily Record In Memoriam notices. They feel that in addition to bringing them in closer spiritual contact with departed dear ones, a memorial notice also reminds friends and relatives of the deep significance of the memorable day and date.

The Daily Record is cooperating in extending this custom by arranging an appropriate special In Memoriam section to be published Thursday, May 29th. A large and varied selection of suitable verses are now prepared and available at the classified department of the Record. Should you wish to honor the memory of your loved one in this special section, please submit your order not later than Tuesday, May 27th. If it is not convenient for you to visit the office, a Record Ad-Taker will gladly handle all details by telephone.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Rain and wet grounds combined to win over both Stroudsburg and Palmerton yesterday and the contest was postponed during the morning hours. However, the delay in action has served only to build the interest in the game and it is now scheduled to take place today, at Palmerton, at 4 p.m. Stroudsburg High will adjourn early for the day and allow many of its students to watch the contest, which will feature the Mountaineers in the position of waging an uphill fight.

If Stroudsburg should come from one-run down today and capture the verdict, the people of Monroe County and especially Stroudsburg are in line for at least one more good ball game. Should the Mountaineers come through with flying colors today, they clash with Catawqua tomorrow, on an as yet unnamed field. If Stroudsburg should hurdle Catty, the Mountaineers would play host to Allentown, winner of the East Penn League title, at Gordon Giffels field on Thursday.

Stroudsburg may have received a break yesterday, when wet grounds washed out the action, in the fact that Coach Jerry Stulgaitis will be ready to take over the helm of the club once again today. Stulgaitis reported back to his teaching duties yesterday afternoon, after a three-day bout with virus. However, by way of a telephone conversation last night, this column learned that Stulgaitis is ready to lead his forces into the biggest game of the season as far as Stroudsburg is concerned, but couldn't have made the grade yesterday.

Alden "Red" Fetherman was further honored yesterday, when he received the blanket award from the Stroudsburg High school Varsity "S" club at an assembly program. The award is given to the senior who has done the most for athletics at the W. Main St. school during the past four years. Fetherman has won 12 varsity letters at Stroudsburg High during the past four years and seems like the logical choice to win the award that will become an annual affair.

Bruce Hoffman, the talk of the intra-mural softball league at Stroudsburg High, also was honored yesterday. Hoffman received the Student Council award for the most valuable player. The odd part of the Hoffman award is the fact that he wasn't even playing in the league when the season got underway. Bruce, a sophomore, was standing in the crowd one day when he was called upon to fill in at second base for the Cookie Dusters, who went on to win the pennant. Hoffman had a triple and double that day and went on to play errorless ball for the remainder of the campaign and finish well up among the top hitters.

George N. Kemp American Legion Post would like to have some of the Stroudsburg High diamond stars join its baseball forces for the coming Northampton County American Legion Baseball League campaign. All the players on the squad at the present time come from East Stroudsburg and Middle Smithfield sections. There are plenty of openings on the roster and a practice session is listed for tomorrow, at the East Stroudsburg Playground. Del Davis, assistant football coach at East Stroudsburg High, will manage the club.

All senior lettermen at Stroudsburg High received their outstanding jacket awards yesterday. The awards were supposed to be made at the recent Varsity "S" club banquet, but the jackets didn't arrive on time. The recent resignation of Johnny Goepfert, veteran Mahanoy City High School basketball coach, was received with sorrow by Goepfert's many friends. Jack Goepfert, Johnny's son, attended East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, where he starred in both basketball and football. Young Goepfert is now a principal at Hummelstown High School, near Harrisburg.

Speaking of resigning brings to mind the fact that Sam Everett has called it quits as an active basketball official, after 20 years in the business. Everett's resignation was prompted by a recent back injury which makes the task of officiating modern fire-house basketball doubly difficult. Sam, one of the top cage officials to ever come out of Monroe County, turned back all games for next season offered him by the Lehigh Valley and Lehigh-Northampton leagues. It certainly will seem strange not to see Sam in action during the 1952-53 campaign.

Ben Jones, a graduate of Stroudsburg High School and East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, has been named to coach the "West" team in the annual "Save-An-Eye" Charity football game for August. The annual event is sponsored by the DuBois Lions Club and all proceeds are used for the club's aid for the blind fund. The contest will be played in August. Jones, head football coach at Brookville High, is scheduled to return to his South Stroudsburg home early next month.

Weatherman Postpones Stroudsburg-Palmerton Clash

DiMaggio, Ennis Take Over Top Spots In Batting Races

New York, (AP)—Don DiMaggio, the lone remaining active member of the famous baseball family, is showing the way to American League batmen with a mark of .340.

Boston's DiMaggio replaced Cleveland's Dale Mitchell at the top of the American League batting helm although he collected only one hit last week. The Boston Red Sox outfielder took part in only one game as he rested a pulled leg muscle, but Mitchell's nose-dive from .360 to .333 gave the youngest DiMag the AL batting leadership.

Fetherman, Hoffman Honored As Athletes By Two Different Groups At Stroudsburg High

Alden "Red" Fetherman and Bruce Hoffman were honored at Stroudsburg High school yesterday, by two different organizations.

Fetherman was named as the senior who has done the most for athletics at Stroudsburg High school during the past four years. The award is given by the high school Varsity "S" Club and all voting is done by varsity lettermen. In order to win the honor the athlete must be a member of the senior class.

A beautiful blanket, with a varsity "S" and 1952 inscribed on the material, was presented to Fetherman after it was announced that he had won the award.

Fetherman has been a three-letter athlete since his freshman year, playing football, basketball and baseball throughout his scholastic career. The outstanding sports figure wound up his career by serving as co-captain of the football and baseball teams and captain of the basketball machine.

Although this was the first year of the award, it will be an annual affair in the future.

Samuel O. Wells III is the club advisor and Karl Weingartner is club president.

Hoffman was named the most valuable player in the Stroudsburg High intra-Mural Softball League, by the Student Council, sponsoring agent of the circuit.

The Cookie Dusters, the team for which Hoffman played second base, received the Student Council trophy for winning the league championship with five victories and one setback.

Seven of the Cookie Dusters were further honored by being named to the circuit's all-star aggregation.

The East Stroudsburg organization will be entered in the Northern Division, with five other clubs.

Other Entries
In addition to the East Stroudsburg team, Wilson Borough, Bangor, Pen Argyl, Bath and Nazareth make up the Northern Division.

The Southern Division is composed of six teams too. However, the opposite division teams don't clash during the regular campaign.

East Stroudsburg opens its regular season schedule on Wednesday, June 4, when Wilson Borough invades the East Stroudsburg Playground.

The Kemp Post club is scheduled to practice tomorrow, at 4 p.m.

Schedule for the first month of the season follows:

June 4—Wilson at East Stroudsburg.
June 11—East Stroudsburg at Bangor.
June 13—East Stroudsburg at Pen Argyl.
June 15—Bath at East Stroudsburg.
June 20—Nazareth at East Stroudsburg.
June 25—East Stroudsburg at Wilson.

Americans Advance In British Golf

Prestwick, Scotland (AP) — Defending champion Dick Chapman and the U. S. amateur king, Billy Maxwell, scored needed victories yesterday to lead a strong American charge into the third round of the British Amateur Golf Championship.

All the big name golfers from across the Atlantic swept forward without the slightest scare. None was carried past the 15th hole of Prestwick's cloud-canopied course. Chapman, intent little internationalist from Pinehurst, N. C., ousted Lindsay Renfrew, jittery young Scotsman, six and five, while Maxwell, sandy-haired college boy from Odessa, Tex., triumphed over Gordon Peters, former British Walker Cup star, five and three.

Each of these southern iron warriors drew a first round by along with a third co-favorite, Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, a two-time winner of this tournament. Stranahan, victor in 1948 and 1950, makes his opening bid today. He spent the day practicing.

Two members of the last United States Walker Cup team—hulking Jim McHale of Philadelphia and Bobby Knowles of Boston—also gained the third round with whopping triumphs.

Frank Strafaci of Garden City, N. Y., and long-hitting Hobart Manley of Savannah, Ga., two other stout contenders, kept pace with second round victories while Harvie Ward of Tarboro, N. C., former U. S. intercollegiate champion, prevailed in a first round match.

The tricky, 6,531-yard seaside course was swept by a cold wind from off the water and only Maxwell and Strafaci took any liberties with its tough 35-37-72 par.

Maxwell fired a 33, two under par, on the front side in humbling Peters. Strafaci shot the same score, with four birdies in the nine holes, in ousting Paris' Henri Lamaze, many times champion of France, four and three.

Senators Lose Coan's Services

Washington, (AP)—Outfielder Gil Coan was lost to the Washington Senators for at least three weeks yesterday when X-rays disclosed he fractured his left wrist while diving for "Skeeter" Kell's double in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader with Philadelphia Athletics.

Coan, batting .383, had been alternating with Archie Wilson as the Senators' leftfielder.

Cavilan Agrees To Defend Championship Against Turner

Philadelphia, (AP)—Kid Gavilan will defend his welterweight championship of the world against Philadelphia's unbeaten Gil Turner in the Municipal Stadium here July 7, the eve of baseball's all-star game.

Promoter Herman Taylor announced yesterday that he had closed the match and that the two boxers would come here June 9 for an official signing ceremony. Taylor said he came to terms yesterday with Angel Lopez and Fernando Baldo, the co-managers of Gavilan, and also with George Katz, Turner's manager.

Gavilan will receive the Champion's 40 per cent of the gate and Turner 20 per cent. Taylor said there will be no television or radio broadcast of the bout. "That is absolutely certain," the promoter emphasized.

The Turner-Gavilan meeting has been rumored unofficially for some time. That it was agreed upon unofficially was reported by the Associated Press more than a month ago. Taylor said the Philadelphia Inquirer Charities would co-sponsor this meeting between the champion and his number one challenger.

Turner has won 31 straight bouts, 25 by knockout or tko.

Gavilan won the 147 pound crown in May, 1951 from Johnny Bratton of Chicago. The Cuban Kead, as he is known, broke Bratton's jaw in that bout. Since winning the crown, Gavilan has defended it twice, winning a close, hotly disputed verdict from New York's Billy Graham last August and turning back Bobby Dykes in Miami's first mixed racial bout in February.

Gavilan and Turner have made a hit with the paying customer throughout their ring careers. Both are leather throwing fighters and both have the colorful habit of giving the ring fans something extra for their money.

Senators Take Measure Of A's

Washington, (AP)—Sid Hudson held the Athletics to nine hits and batted across two runs today as Washington defeated Philadelphia, 5-3, on a 13-hit barrage against Sam Zoladak and Johnny Kucab.

Hudson and Archie Wilson drove across all of Washington's runs. Wilson, the ex-Yankee, slammed over three with a triple and two singles.

Washington scored with two out in the first inning on Jackie Jensen's double and Wilson's triple. Elmer Valo, who accounted for two of the A's hits, blasted a second inning home run over the rightfield fence to tie the score. Valo later singled, walked and doubled.

Successive singles by Pete Runnels, Mel Hoderlein and Clyde Klutts loaded the bases for the Senators in the second inning but they got only one run out of it. Runnels scored after Hudson filed to Gus Zernial in left field.

Jensen's second double and Wilson's single boosted Washington into a 3-1 lead in the third inning. The Senators made it 4-1 in the fifth when Eddie Yost doubled and came around on Wilson's single. The A's sliced their deficit to 4-3 in the sixth with a two-run outburst. Washington picked up its final run in the eighth. Phila. — 010 002 000—3 9 0 Washington. 111 010 015—5 13 2

Information concerning the scenic Poconos is contained in a brochure that began its widespread distribution yesterday.

Sponsored by the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce, the maps are available to service stations, souvenir shops and other points in the area which handle the influx of Summer trade.

Measuring 24 by 18½ inches, the map points out communities in the region; waterfalls, ski areas, golf courses, airports, scenic spots, fishing streams, state forest parks, game grounds, fire towers and location of historical Indian markers.

The brochure also notes the industrial wealth of the area revealing that industry operates 88 plants; points out the retail trade and income of orchard and dairy farming products.

Also contained in the introduction is a welcome to the Poconos and a description of the diversions expected to be found here.

Several thousand maps will be distributed, according to Jacob Wachman, who issued a request that persons distributing the maps should call at the C. of C. office in the Stroudsburg Security Trust Co. building for their supply.

Information booths located in Wind Gap and Delaware Water Gap also will be supplied with the brochures for distribution to the thousands of casual visitors who converge on this area annually.

Seniors To Pass Mantle To Juniors

A traditional ceremony symbolizing the acceptance of responsibility by Stroudsburg High School juniors will be enacted this morning at 11 in the school auditorium.

Known as the annual "moving-up" ceremony, the procedure involves the passing of the senior class mantle from the keeping of the 1952 class to those who will graduate in 1953.

Present junior class members will be escorted into the auditorium by Audrey Albert and Paul Lim, president and secretary of the freshmen.

Donald Garavanti and Martha yost, present sophomore class officers, will escort the senior class to their seats.

Following the advance of colors, the customary "excerpts" from the scripture and the repetition of the "Pledge of Allegiance," Earl F. Groner, superintendent of Stroudsburg school system will speak on the significance of the ceremony.

Arthur Jollowsky, president of the senior class, will then pass the mantle to junior class president Ray Caffier.

Seniors will then sing their class song, composed and conducted by Harriet Garavanti and accompanied by Kathryn Ann Hickey.

The upperclassmen will be escorted from the auditorium. Their places will be taken by the members of the junior class.

The singing of the junior class song, composed and conducted by Jane Ann Marshall, will be dedicated to the seniors.

All parents and the general public are invited to attend the special ceremonies.

Commander Of Depot To Arrive Today

A tour of inspection of the Army Signal Corps $33 million supply depot at Tobyhanna is expected to be among the first official duties of Lt. Col. Charles S. Tucker, who is scheduled to arrive today to assume the post of resident engineer.

Lt. Col. Tucker succeeds Capt. John A. Myers who was assigned to duty at Tobyhanna about June 18, 1951. The Army's Technical Information Service at Philadelphia said yesterday Capt. Myers will remain at the depot site to acquaint Col. Tucker with the program before being reassigned. It is expected Col. Tucker will take up official residence about June 1.

The new resident engineer comes here from Delaware where he was area engineer for the state with jurisdiction in that state of all military construction. Among the projects under his direction were Dover Air Force Base, Newcastle Air Force Base and Fort Miles.

In February of this year Lt. Col. Tucker was awarded the Legion of Merit medal for outstanding service as commanding officer of the 839th Engineers Aviation Battalion at Okinawa. Under his command an airfield destroyed during World War Two was reclaimed and placed into operation for use by our planes in the Korean conflict. The citation was for service from May 9 to Oct. 25, 1951.

Born in Bronx, N. Y., Jan. 27, 1905, Lt. Col. Tucker received his education in New York City schools and graduated from New York University. He served with the New York National Guard for nine years before being called to active duty with the Army in 1942. During World War Two he served in the European Theater of Operations.
